This is my final chance to reflect publicly on the busy year that has just gone and the successes and challenges it brought for Sutton Carers Centre (SCC) as we work with and for over 6000 Carers in Sutton of all ages and backgrounds. And this year, I also look back over the last 9 years to when I was elected Chair just as Rachael also arrived as the new Chief Executive Officer.

Back in 2007, SCC was much smaller, existed on a complex series of short-term grants and had just avoided insolvency. Since then we have significantly increased in size and we are largely funded by 3 year contracts (though the demands of tendering are heavy for a small organisation). We work in a wider range of partnerships local and national and have an increasingly professional staff to support many more Carers. Much of this change has been due to Rachael's professionalism, hard work and sheer tenacity in fighting for Carers.

Over these years, Carers have received much greater recognition (if alas not funding!) of their invaluable role by both national and local government. In no small part this has been due to the committed work of our former MP Paul Burstow. But much still remains to be done as the still hesitant implementation of the Care Act 2014 shows. Levels of Carers Assessments remain deplorably low both here in Sutton and nationally as, yet again, longer-term preventative measures in health and social care are sacrificed to short-term acute needs when funding is allocated.

This year ended with SCC winning two tenders for adult services (one in partnership with our old friends, Citizen’s Advice Sutton and the other, with valued partners Alzheimer’s Society Sutton) to continue support for Sutton’s adult Carers. Our Young Carers work has seen the further development of work with some of the Borough’s secondary schools to help them better support Young Carers in school and we have worked with several GP surgeries to see that hey identify and support more Carers given the well researched challenges caring poses to the health and wellbeing of Carers themselves. Our thanks to London Borough of Sutton as well as Sutton Clinical Commissioning Group for continuing to prioritise Carers in their commissioning processes. We also are grateful to funders such as the Big Lottery Fund for their funding for young Carers, in particular.

We could not support Carers to the level we can without our invaluable volunteers who run the reception desk, phone up Carers giving information and advice, and emotional support, accompany young Carers on outings, help run support groups etc. This includes my fellow Trustees who have to understand large amounts of paper and take complex decisions in the best interests of SCC. And thanks too to our specialist advisers Brenda Northover and Roger Mills (Roger has sadly had to stand down as his own caring responsibilities grow). We estimate our volunteers’ support is worth about £108,000 a year in time donated. Thank-you – and we can always find a job for more volunteers! Special thanks also to our Carer’s Champion, Councillor Marlene Heron.

The staff (many also Carers) have risen nobly to this year’s challenges, coping with an ever-increasing workload and one of greater complexity, whilst having to adapt to new technology (and its vagaries!), some organisational change and a constantly shifting external climate. They have demonstrated great professionalism and often gone well beyond the call of duty...thank you from us all.

Dr. Elaine Drage, CBE
Sutton Carers Centre is a lifeline. I have learnt so much about the concerns and lives of Carers from the Centre. So it was a pleasure to be invited to contribute a foreword to this year’s Annual Review.

Carers provide the bulk of care in our country. Three in five of us will become Carers at some point in our lives. Without Carers our already stretched NHS and social services would be overwhelmed. But many Carers pay a heavy price for their caring role in both their health and their wealth.

I have been asked to say something about a project I have been leading for Carers Trust. A simple question: have Carers noticed any difference since the Care Act (2014) came in? Over six months with a small team of experts by experience and profession, we took the first snapshot of the impact the Act is having.

During our inquiry we were told by many of those who contributed that the Care Act is an important piece of social reform but its potential is far from being realised. The Care Act puts Carers on an equal footing with those who have care needs. This parity in law is new, some even say revolutionary. Councils have a duty to promote the wellbeing of Carers and to prevent burn out and crisis.

What we found is a mixed picture. There are beacons of good practice, but there is plenty of darkness too. For many of the Carers who responded to Carers Trust’s call for evidence the response was stark - no, the Act had made no difference. Indeed, for many it was news to them that there were new rights. We heard during the course of our evidence gathering that the 1948 National Assistance Act, which the Care Act replaced, took almost a decade to become embedded and supplant the Poor Law mind-set of many charged with its implementation.

The same can be said today about the Care Act. More work is needed to impress upon those responsible for the day-to-day implementation of the Act that business as usual is not good enough. The Care Act raises the bar. It expects decision-makers to look at the wellbeing of the Carer and where necessary take a whole family approach.

We found evidence that when it comes to assessment the law is either poorly understood or ignored. Too often it appears that Carers are fobbed off with a one-off payment as if that discharges the obligation to promote their wellbeing.

So where should we be by 2018, three years after the Act came into force? Based on what we have heard and the evidence we have collected, the Commission believes that at a minimum, Carers should be reporting satisfaction with the assessments and personalised support they receive, have access to the services they need and have an understanding of their rights under the Care Act. Social workers and other care practitioners should be able to evidence that they are applying the Act’s wellbeing principle in all their adult social care decisions. The number of Carer assessments in 2018 should reached at least 360,000 in line with the Government’s own estimate.

Along with my fellow commissioners, we remain optimistic about the transformative potential of the Care Act. Our report should be essential reading for Directors of Adult and Children’s Services, and Directors of Public Health. It has messages for the NHS too. Above all, it is about making improvements for Carers themselves.

This is why Sutton Carers Centre has such a vital task. Promoting the rights of Carers and ensuring public authorities, NHS, local authorities respect both the letter and the spirit of the law.
Message from our CEO, Rachael MacLeod...

One of the joys of being the CEO is when I have the opportunity to leave the tenders, meetings, and day-to-day matters of the office behind, to share a day out with some of the carers we support. These excursions are not just social occasions to catch up with the lives of our Young Adult Carers, however; they are opportunities to connect with their real-life experiences and ensure that their voices are heard both locally and nationally to influence policy, strategy and practice.

This year I had the honour to accompany Beth, Laura, Heather and Natalia to various events; these included a roundtable discussion regarding the impact of caring on Young Carers' mental health, hosted by Paul Burstow and Carers Trust, two national conferences on the same topic to colleagues in the caring field, and a workshop at the Royal College of Psychiatrists' national conference alongside Ruth Hannan and Young Adult Carer Camilla from Northamptonshire. I always am pleased to share what we have developed and learned from our work, but what has the greatest impact is not what I have to say (which is plenty!) but the eloquence of what Young Carers have to share about their personal experiences. They are brave in their honesty, humble regarding what they contribute to their families and communities, yet fierce in advocating for their peers, demanding the recognition and support they so deserve. Thank you to them, their families and their schools for enabling them to have this platform; and thank you for allowing me to share that stage and have such fun whilst doing so! We eagerly await the new national Carers Strategy to see what it can offer to Young Carers and track how their shared experiences have shaped it.

I hope you enjoy reading this Annual Review. It is as colourful and lively as the Centre and the staff who inhabit it and we think it illustrates how we have connected – with carers of all ages in a variety of caring roles, with partners, with funders – in the Centre as well as across and between communities. We do this in person, by phone, by email and via the web and will be doing everything we can this coming year to connect with those carers who need us most and with whom we have not yet made contact.

I also would like to take this opportunity to thank our hard-working paid staff and volunteers who, simply put, are exceptional, not unlike the caring Sutton residents we support. I also would like to thank the many partners in the Voluntary and Community Sector with whom we work so closely to serve Sutton through our charitable aims, especially Sutton Consortium members and those who have elected me to share representation at the Sutton Health and Wellbeing Board alongside Susanna Bennett and now Alison Navarro from Sutton CVS. Lastly, my sincere and heartfelt to Elaine Drage, our outgoing Chair - also a Carer and my mentor of several years. May you enjoy every moment of your well-deserved 'retirement' in Worcestershire and please know that your integrity, skill and kind heart has inspired and changed us all for the better. We will maintain the fire in our bellies and continue to work tirelessly for Carers in Sutton, as you did this last 9 years.

The Difference we made by Connecting….

Dear all at Sutton Carers Centre,
In celebration of random acts of kindness week, we just wanted to say a great big thanks for all your help!
Thanks for all you do for the community in Sutton!
(Adult Carer)

Dear Young Carers Team,
Thank you so much for the tickets for the Palace Match. It really made YC A’s birthday extra special. Words cannot express how grateful I am. Thanks again!
(Young Carer’s Parent)

To Sutton Carers Centre,
Thank you for all of the help you have given to me. I feel without your support I would not be the person I am today. I will think of you often.
Again, all my thanks.
(Adult Carer)

Thank you so much for the letter. It really helped. We had an awesome time and made many memories which we can look back on as a family. Thank you so much.
(Young Carer)

Many, many thanks for your kindness and continued support. I got the job.
(Adult and Young Carer)

SCC has been a lifeline for me. Due to the support from SCC I have been able to return back to work, join the gym, get back to college and be myself again.
(Adult Carer)

We are grateful for the help given by the fantastic staff at SCC. I would have never known that we could claim DLA and Carers Allowance. This money has made a huge difference to our lives and that of our son. We no longer have to say no to things all the time. The reflexology sessions are lovely and I am the most relaxed I have been in years!
(Parent Carer)

As promised, I am writing to let you know that we have received the Attendance Allowance from DWP at a high rate. We are pleasantly surprised and will find this extremely helpful. Thank you again for your help and advice.
(Adult Carer)

I have found our one to one sessions helpful because I have you to talk about my caring role because I don’t feel comfortable talking to my friends about it. They wouldn’t understand, but you do. I always feel better after our support sessions.
(Young Carer)
...the Difference we made by Connecting

- SCC has over 6000 Carers from the estimated 20,000 Carers in Sutton on our database.
- 98% of newly registered Carers reported that their caring role had a significant impact on their wellbeing. 71% reported the impact as 'high'.
- 25% of newly registered Carers considered that their caring role placed them at risk of harm.
- 70% of Carers come into contact with health professionals yet health professionals only identify 1 in 10. Carers are ‘hidden in plain view’.
- Roughly 2 million people become Carers every year. Supporting Carers and their families early, we can prevent or reduce future health issues, reducing care costs as well as improving lives.

What we did?

- We supported 2200 Carers throughout the year - an increase of 10% on the previous year with over 1000 hours of training, workshops, short breaks and support groups.
- This included over 13 different support groups for carers with specific need - male Carers, mental health Carers, peer support groups for Young Carers, whole-family groups, parent carers and many more!
- We ran Family Skills Workshops for mental health carers, personal safety courses, whole-family workshops, benefit and information sessions, Carer awareness for professionals, homework clubs, CV workshops for Young Adult Carers as well as psychological therapies.
- We offered short breaks such as meditation and relaxation, complementary therapies, yoga and street dance for Young Carers.

How we did it?

- We decided to extend our opening hours by 13% offering over 300 hours of extra support per year out of normal office hours.
- Working closely with over 20 local partner organisations - many of whom offer specific support to Carers based at Sutton Carers Centre.
- Recruited an increased number of volunteers whose contributions equate to an estimated £84k per annum.
- Supported people with lived experience of caring to run groups with other Carers, totalling an additional 500 hours.
- Became more effective and efficient in the way the staff teams function.
- Ensured we raised funds from as many sources as possible, using our ££ carefully.

What it meant for Carers...

- We exceeded our contractual target of 85%, as 95% of Carers asked thought that they had been able to maintain or improve the balance of their caring role with their desired quality of life, irrespective of increased demands of caring, as a result of their contact with Sutton Carers Centre. Over 2/3 reported specific ways in which their life balance and wellbeing had improved.
- 46% of Carers felt they were coping better due to being less socially isolated after contact with us which was an improvement on what was achieved the previous year.
- And over 9 out of 10 Carers who felt their caring role placed them at risk of harm when they first had contact with us, felt they could care more safely as a result of the information, advice and support our teams provided.
- A further £400k went into the Sutton economy as a result of benefits and grants received by Carers and the potential benefit gains could be 3 times this.
Fundraising and Donations, connecting Carers. . .

Our Treasurer, carer Don Brims continues his herculean fund-raising feats through his sponsored 10k runs. He and wife Judi also hosted two ‘Britain’s Best Breakfast’ Events for carers, raising awareness and much-needed funds.

Who would sponsor Tazza Coffee’s Manager Bob Law to be a Dame for the day?!? Sutton’s caring community members, that’s who! Bob raised hundreds of pounds for carers in Sutton last Christmas and as a reward/punishment, he donned his panto garb to serve coffee and refreshments for a day.

Grateful thanks, too, to Nazanin Abolkheriyan, our former Young Carers Service Manager, who donated funds to support Young Carers’ educational aspirations. It was a kind, thoughtful and powerful way of expressing her affection and belief in the Young Carers she supported over the years.

Our Treasurer, carer Don Brims continues his herculean fund-raising feats through his sponsored 10k runs. He and wife Judi also hosted two ‘Britain’s Best Breakfast’ Events for carers, raising awareness and much-needed funds.

Trustee Margaret Hobbs and her husband and family raised much money through even more physical exertion! Thank you to them for their support. And thank you to Martin Lunn, our star fund-raiser, here accepting a token of thanks at the Mayor’s Reception in June, following the Carers Thames Walk.

The Trustees’ Annual Report, including the full Financial Statements, are available from the Centre upon request, or can be downloaded in due course from the Charity Commission website: www.charity-commission.gov.uk.

We are grateful for the additional donations and support from individuals and groups throughout the year: Carers Trust, Big Lottery Fund, Carers Support Merton, Riverside Community Association, St Mark’s Family Centre, Sutton Nursing Association, sponsors and the walkers of the Carers Thames Walk 2016, sponsors of Don’s sponsored 10k run, sponsors of Don and Judi’s ‘Best Breakfasts’, Bob Law and sponsors of the ‘Dress as a Dame for the Day’, Friends of Sutton Carers Centre, St John’s Church Belmont, the Moving on Group, Coffee Morning Group, Relaxation and Meditation group, Cheam Rotary Club, Carshalton Beeches Rotary Club, Carshalton Rotary Club, Sutton Carers Forum, Japanese Travel, Crown Road Baptist Church, Inner Wheel Club of Banstead, Nazanin Abolkheriyan, Surrey Community Foundation, Colleagues at the Salvation Army, Indy Associates, Imagine Independence, Age UK (Sutton), SWLSfG for partnership working in Wellbeing Hub, and all the Navigators, Citizen’s Advice Sutton, Sutton Centre for the Voluntary Sector, Alzheimer’s Society Sutton, Imagine Independence, Off the Record Croydon and Sutton, Sutton Together Consortium, Carers Action Groups, Dementia UK, Admiral Nurse Service, London Borough of Sutton Community Social Work Team, Novus Carers Centre Consortium.

Thank you to the families of M Dawe and Roy F Lown, for their legacies, which will be put to such good use.

Thank you to the many people, often wishing to remain anonymous, who kindly make financial or goods donations to the organisation. This may be in appreciation for services received, to enable others to access our support, or as a way of remembering a loved one who has passed. We ‘gift aid’ every donation possible.

Summary SOFA for the year ended 31st March 2015.

Change of accounting policy 2015-16

Historically the policy of the charity has been to recharge restricted fund projects with a proportion of support costs included in unrestricted fund expenditure.

From 1st April 2015 the charity has charged that expenditure directly to restricted fund projects and so recharged income of £131,520 and costs of the same amount which have previously been included in unrestricted funds no longer appears in the financial statements. This change of policy has no effect on the net income for either the year ended 31st March 2016 or 2015, but incoming resources in 2015 previously reported as £620,858 are now restated as £489,338 and resources expended, previously reported as £658,198 are now restated as £526,678.

Income and expenditure this year were greater than in the previous financial year as we responded to increased demand for our services. There is a modest surplus of net income; this is because of a very welcome legacy received during the course of the year. Funding from statutory sources continues to be squeezed, with increasingly stringent conditions attached and there is an increasingly urgent need to generate income from non-public sector sources.
